

Amy E. Lerman
2607 Hearst Ave, Berkeley CA 94720
alerman@berkeley.edu
<http://gspp.berkeley.edu/alerman/>

---

ACADEMIC POSITIONS

University of California, Berkeley

Associate Professor of Public Policy and Political Science, July 2014 – current
Assistant Professor of Public Policy, July 2013 – June 2014

Princeton University

Assistant Professor of Politics and Public Affairs, September 2008 – June 2013
Instructor of Politics and Public Affairs, July 2008 – September 2008

Patten College at San Quentin State Prison

Adjunct Faculty, Spring 2004 – Fall 2006

EDUCATION and TRAINING

University of California, Berkeley

PhD                      Political Science, December 2008
Research Interests Political Psychology and Behavior, Public Opinion, Race and Inequality, Social Policy, Experimental Research Methods
Dissertation The Citizens Prisons Produce: How Criminal Justice Policies Shape American Communities and Civic Life
Committee Henry Brady (chair), Jack Citrin, Paul Pierson, Jonathan Simon

MA                        Political Science, May 2003
Thesis Radical Choice meets Rational Choice: Rational versus Symbolic Frames and the Success of Strategic Membership Enticements

New York University

BA                        Social Policy and Political Science, Gallatin School, June 1999

National Science Foundation

Integrated Graduate Education Research and Training Program (IGERT) in Politics, Economics, Psychology, and Public Policy (PEPPP), 2006-2008

Interuniversity Consortium for Political and Social Research (ICPSR)

Summer Program in Quantitative Methods of Social Research, 2003

BOOKS

Forthcoming, The University of Chicago Press

The Public Reputation Crisis: How Stereotypes of Government Undermine the Common Good (And What We Can Do to Fix It)

American government has a reputation crisis. Over the past several decades, a majority of citizens—both Democrats and Republicans—have come to believe that “public” is synonymous with wasteful, inefficient, and low quality services. Do these negative stereotypes of government have significant consequences for public opinion toward public spending and privatization? In this book, I use original surveys and survey experiments, as well as a set of quasi- and field experiments, to show that the growing perception of government as an incompetent service provider is an important predictor of public attitudes, leading citizens to support a greater reliance on the private market to deliver an array of services that have been traditionally provided by federal, state, and local government.

May 2014, The University of Chicago Press

Arresting Citizenship: The Democratic Consequences of American Crime Control (with Vesla Weaver)

In this book, we argue that institutions of criminal justice have become an important source of political socialization, in which the lessons that are imprinted are antagonistic to democratic participation and inspire negative orientations toward government. To test this argument, we conduct the first systematic empirical exploration of how criminal justice involvement shapes the citizenship, political voice and racial attitudes of a growing swath of Americans. We find that custodial involvement carries with it a substantial civic penalty that is not explained by criminal propensity or socioeconomic differences alone. Our research suggests that the historical growth of the criminal justice sector has profound consequences for the political representation of historically marginalized groups and for the health of American democracy.

August 2013, Cambridge University Press

The Modern Prison Paradox: Politics, Punishment and American Community

In this project, I examine the rise and consequences of the paradigmatic shift that has taken place in American prison administration over the last half century. Using original data and a set of natural experiments, I show that harsher prison environments have detrimental effects on inmates, as well as on the growing number of correctional employees who work in the nation’s prisons. By examining not only whether we incarcerate individuals, but how we incarcerate them, this book makes an important contribution to the timely debate over American crime control policy, as well as to our understanding of the role of the State in shaping Americans’ social networks and collective norms.

CHAPTERS AND ARTICLES

In Publication

Policy Uptake as Political Behavior: Experimental Evidence from Obamacare (with Meredith Sadin and Samuel Trachtman). 2017. American Political Science Review.

Combatting Biased Decision Making to Promote Justice and Equal Treatment (with Sah et al.). 2017. Behavioral Science & Policy.

Personal Experience and Public Opinion: A Theory and Test of Conditional Policy Feedback (with Katherine McCabe). 2017. Journal of Politics.

A Tradeoff Between Democracy and Deterrence? (with Vesla Weaver). 2015. In Democratic Theory and Mass Incarceration, ed. Albert Dzur, Ian Loader and Richard Sparks, New York: Oxford University Press.

Book Review: “Trapped in America's Safety Net: One Family's Struggle” by Andrea Louise Campbell. 2015. Journal of Politics.

A Triologue on Democracy and Mass Incarceration (with Vesla Weaver). 2015. Perspectives on Politics.

Does the Front Line Reflect the Party Line? The Politicization of Punishment and Prison Officers’ Perspectives on Incarceration (with Joshua Page). 2015. British Journal of Criminology.

Political Ideology, Skin Tone, and the Psychology of Candidate Evaluations (with Katherine McCabe and Meredith Sadin). January 2015. Public Opinion Quarterly 79 (1): 53-90.

The Carceral State and American Political Development (with Vesla Weaver). 2015. In Oxford Handbook of American Political Development, ed. Robert Lieberman, Suzanne, Mettler, and Richard Valelly, New York: Oxford University Press.

Stereotyping or Projection: How White and Black Voters Estimate Black Candidates’ Ideology (with Meredith Sadin). Online Dec 2014, print April 2015. Political Psychology.

Reading Wacquant as Both ‘Lumper’ and “Splitter”: A Brief Response to Wacquant’s “Urban Marginality, Ethnicity, Penalty in the Neoliberal City.” 2014. Ethnic and Racial Studies Review 37(10):1739-1747.

Mapping Carceral Communities: How Police Contact Remakes Citizen-State Relations (with Vesla Weaver). January 2014. The ANNALS of the American Academy of Political and Social science 651(1): 202-219.

Race and Crime in American Politics: From Law and Order to Willie Horton and Beyond (with Vesla Weaver). January 2014. In Oxford Handbook of Race, Ethnicity, Immigration and Crime, ed. Michael Tonry and Sandra Bucerius, New York: Oxford University Press.

The State of the Job: An Embedded Work Role Perspective on Prison Officer Attitudes (with Joshua Page). December 2012. Punishment & Society 14(5):503-529.

Political Consequences of the Carceral State (with Vesla Weaver). November 2010. American Political Science Review 104(4):817-833.

The People Prisons Make: Effects of Incarceration on Criminal Psychology. 2009. In Do Prisons Make Us Safer, ed. Steve Raphael and Michael Stoll, New York: Russell Sage Foundation.

The Rights of the Accused. 2008. In Public Opinion and Constitutional Controversies, ed. Nate Persily, Jack Citrin and Patrick Egan, New York: Oxford University Press.

Testing Huntington: Empirical Evidence of Latino Immigrant Assimilation (with Jack Citrin, Michael Murakami, and Kathryn Pearson). March 2007. Perspectives on Politics 5(1):31-48.

Old Neighbors, New Era: The Future of U.S. Mexico Relations. 2003. Quarterly Publication of the Berkeley Center for Latin American Studies, Special Issue.

Forthcoming

Criminal Justice and Incarceration. Annual Review of Political Science

Under Review

Perceptions of Public Service Provision: Motivated Reasoning in Quality Assessment and Attribution (with Dan Acland)

In Progress

Intra-Party Conflict in the 2016 Presidential Election (with Merrill Shanks)

Assessment and Attribution: Objective Policy Conditions and Views of the ACA (with Samuel Trachtman)

Plea Bargains from the Defendant's Perspective (with Patricio Dominguez and Ariel Powell)

Sensitivity to Scope Conditions (with Laura Stoker and Alexander Sahn)

OP-EDS AND REPORTS

Experiences with Violence and the Health of Parole and Correctional Peace Officers: A Report of the Correctional Officer Health and Wellness Project. 2017.

The Promise and Practice of Prison Higher Education: Results of a Qualitative Assessment. 2016.

PPIC Online. "Expanding Education, Reducing Recidivism" (with Mia Bird). August 2015.

Slate. "Protest is Democracy at Work" (with Vesla Weaver). 2014.

Washington Post. "What Medicare Can Teach Us About the Future of Obamacare." Nov 26, 2013.

Scholar Strategy Network, “How Harsh Policing and Mass Imprisonment Create Second-Class American Citizens” (with Vesla Weaver). 2014.

A Preliminary Report on the Recidivism-Reducing Effects of Prison Higher Education, 2012

Evaluating ‘The Farm’: A Focus Group on Media Effects, Report for the Highest Common Denominator Media Group, 2010.

Managing Prison Violence: Perceptions of Safety among California Correctional Officers, Report to the Center for Evidence-Based Corrections, University of California, Irvine, December 2006.

GRANTS, AWARDS and FELLOWSHIPS

- 2017            Spencer Foundation, Research Award
- 2016            University of California, Berkeley, Chancellor’s Public Scholar
- 2015            Russell Sage Foundation, Research Award
- 2014            American Political Science Association Urban Politics Section, Best Book Award
- 2014            UC Berkeley Goldman School of Public Policy, Michelle J. Schwartz Endowed Chair
- 2012            Princeton University, Nominee for the Graduate Student Advising Award
- 2011            Southern Political Science Association Nominee (with Vesla Weaver) for the 2012 Pi Sigma Alpha Award
- 2010            Bobst Center for Peace and Justice Faculty Research Grant
- 2008            American Political Science Association The Heinz I. Eulau Award for best paper published in Perspectives on Politics
- American Political Science Association Political Methodology Section Summer Conference Fellowship
- 2006-2008    National Science Foundation Integrated Graduate Research, Education and Training Program in Politics, Economics, Psychology and Public Policy Fellow (IGERT-PEPP)
- 2007            Justice Research and Statistics Association Paper Award
- American Political Science Association US Graduate Travel Grant
- Law and Society Association Graduate Student Travel Subsidy, Alternate Candidate
- 2006            National Science Foundation Dissertation Improvement Grant
- UPENN Fox Leadership Center Fox Leadership Fellow
- UC Irvine Center for Evidence-Based Corrections Research Sub-Award

UC Berkeley Institute for Governmental Studies Dissertation Fellowship
UC Berkeley Graduate Division Summer Grant
 2005-2006 UC Berkeley Graduate Division Normative Time Fellowship
 2005 UC Berkeley GSI Teaching and Resource Center Teaching Effectiveness Award
UC Berkeley Advisory Committee for GSI Affairs Outstanding GSI Award
 2004 National Science Foundation Graduate Fellowship, Honorable Mention
 2002 UC Berkeley Department of Political Science Fellowship

POLICY AND POLITICAL SERVICE ACTIVITIES

Research Director	California Correctional Officer Wellness Project	2016-current
Research Consultant	Prison University Project Research and Evaluation on issues related to prison-based higher education	2008-current
Board of Directors	Isles, Inc Advisory position for community development organization	2009-2011
Curriculum Writer	Kaplan, Inc. Co-author of a set of textbooks for readers at grade levels 3, 4, and 5, published and released in 2004.	2004
VP, Policy Studies	Attention America, LLC Speech writing and editing, policy research and analysis	Sept 2000– August 2002
International Development	Namaste Orphanage: Kathmandu, Nepal Curriculum development for children ages 5-13 at full-time facility. University Elementary: Santiago, Chile Design and implementation of a K-6 ESL program for at-risk youth. Camp Hope: Quito, Ecuador Spanish-English translator for on-site staff at special needs orphanage.	Aug 1999– Aug 2000
Constituency Services	Brooklyn Congressional District Office Direct constituency liaison, responsible for client meetings and casework Related to housing and social services.	Sept 1998 – June 1999

PROFESSIONAL SERVICE ACTIVITIES

Faculty Chair	PhD Program, Goldman School of Public Policy, 2014-current
Advisory Committee	On the Same Page Program, UC Berkeley, 2016
Advisory Committee	Board of Directors, American National Election Study
Advisory Board	UCDC, Berkeley chapter, 2014-2016
Co-organizer	Race, Ethnicity, and Immigration Lecture Series, 2014-current
Advisory Board	Institute of Governmental Studies, UC Berkeley, 2013-current
Advisory Board	PolicyMatters journal, UC Berkeley, 2013-2015
Co-Sponsor	Princeton University Crime & Punishment Workshop, 2008-2013
Board of Directors	Isles, Inc., 2010
Co-Chair	APSA Working Group on Punishment and Prisons, 2010
Co-Chair	Collaborative Research Network on Prisons and Prisoners, Law and Society Association, 2006-2010
Chair	Princeton University Conference on Prison Higher Education, 2008
Member	American Political Science Association, Midwest Political Science Association, Southern Political Science Association, American Sociological Association, Law and Society Association

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Languages

Semi-fluent Spanish
Conversational Naso (Panamanian tribal language)

Statistical software and programming languages

Stata, SPSS, ArcGIS, R, python, html