FUNG Kar-ye, Kathleen 	I am from Hong Kong and now having my career development training at UC Berkeley. I got my business degree from The University of Hong Kong in 2008 majored in Economics and Finance. I joined the Hong Kong government after graduation. I have worked in a number of policy areas, including urban planning, arts and culture and internal security policy. My major duties are liaising with different concerned parties within and outside the government, preparing briefing materials and discussion papers and assisting in the formulation of policies. I look forward to my stay in US as this is my first time to study in the States. My interest includes travelling, photography and yoga.
LAI Ming-fai, Kevin 	I am from Hong Kong, China and was given an opportunity to take a brief break from a six-year service as a civil servant in Hong Kong to join a training course in Berkeley. I obtained an MSc degree from the University of Bristol, UK in International Politics, and my main academic interest is in politics and international relations. I am fortunate enough to have gathered useful perspectives in local administration, transport and telecommunications policies as well as cross-Taiwan strait relations through my career so far. I am most delighted and excited to join you all in Berkeley for some vivid and edifying exchanges!

MO Yuen-ching, Emily	I am from Hong Kong. After graduation from the University of Hong Kong majoring in Arts (Translation), I became a reporter for just a year and then joined the civil service of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region as an Administrative Officer in 2001. I have worked in different bureaux and departments overseeing various policy areas and duties. The responsibilities involved in my latest postings include handling the domestic public transport policy in the Transport and Housing Bureau and the policy on domestic public safety and order in the Security Bureau. I am now the Assistant Secretary (Quality Assurance) in the University Grants Committee assisting in coordinating quality assurance matters of eight publicly-funded universities/higher education institution. I am a mother of two kids who are now four and two years old. I am interested in kids and telecommunications policies as well as domestic safety.
	NG Man-yu, Mike I am from Hong Kong. I graduated in 2009 with BBA in Professional Accounting. Instead of continuing my profession in the business field, I started my career as an Administrative Officer in the Hong Kong Government. For the past three years I have worked in District Office which is mainly responsible for district administration, public liaison, providing secretarial support to the District Council and I served as an Assistant Returning Officer during elections. I have also worked on policies of youth development and community development. I am happy to have the chance to study public policy in UC Berkeley and wish to travel around the America during my stay.

PAU Pak-sun, Sunny	I studied music in the Chinese University of Hong Kong before graduating in 2009 and entering the Administrative Service of the Government of Hong Kong Special Administrative Region. Public policy and politics are new subjects to me, but I find them interesting through my everyday work, particularly in my recent posting to a district office, which I had to deal with local politics every day. I look forward to a great time in Berkeley and the bay area.
	WU Tin-yau, Gordon I was born in Hong Kong and grew up there. I got my bachelor degree in 2008 at the Chinese University of Hong Kong majoring Business Administration and minoring Government and Public Administration. I joined in the Government of the Hong Kong SAR in 2008 and worked under a policy Bureau responsible for, inter alia, electoral affairs. Since 2010, I have been in the Waste Management Policy Division under the Environmental Protection Department. I am glad to have this chance to study in UC Berkeley. Being a first-timer to California, I am sure there is much for me to explore.

CHONG Mei-yan, Natalie	I was born and brought up in Hong Kong. After obtaining a degree in social science majoring in psychology, I joined the civil service. I am now working in the Efficiency Unit of the Hong Kong SAR Government, and one of my main duties is to partner with other government bureaus and departments to identify areas of improvement and facilitate change. This job has given me the exposure to the work of different government agencies and the opportunities to look for ways to help improve public services, which I find very challenging. As for my personal interests, I enjoy music and travelling.
	HONG Wing, Horace I was born in Fujian, China but grew up in Hong Kong. I obtained my Bachelor degree in Civil and Environmental Engineering and Master degree in Laws in the University of Hong Kong. Since graduation in 2001, I joined the Government, responsible for planning, design and construction of engineering projects. After acquiring the chartership from the engineering institutions, I had been working as a civil engineer. I am currently working in Highways Department involving in the management of Hong Kong-Zhuhai-Macao Bridge Project. Before joining Highways Department, I had participated in the Sichuan Reconstruction Projects to rebuild the destroyed schools, hospitals and roads during the earthquake in Sichuan Province in 2008. My interests include infrastructure planning, community development, and transport policy design. I am eager to explore any interesting issues in UC Berkeley and meet new friends in Goldman School.
