“Climate Policies: In our Backyard and Abroad”
A panel discussion on California’s AB 32, as well as climate change legislation from an international perspective

Prof. Bob Infelise
Environmental Law and Policy, Boalt Law School
Currently on the faculty at Boalt, he served as the acting executive director of Berkeley Law’s Center for Law, Energy and the Environment, and now as the chair of its Advisory Committee. He is partner at Cox Castle & Nicholson, and founded the firm’s environmental practice. Bob graduated from Cal and Berkeley Law.

Olof Hansen
U.S. EPA (though not representing agency)
He is managing partnerships between the U.S. EPA and industries on sustainability projects. He also works on the "Trans-Atlantic Climate Bridge", a German-North American Partnership fostering public/private projects on sustainability, renewables, energy performance and climate protection. Olof graduated from Technical University of Berlin, Germany,

Emilie Mazzacurati
Real Options International, formerly with Point Carbon
She is an expert on carbon markets and climate policy, publishing extensively on federal climate legislation, regional programs and the interaction of carbon with other commodity markets while heading Point Carbon and at the United Nations Environment Program. Emilie graduated from the Goldman School.

Moderator: Prof. Lee Friedman, Economist, Goldman School

Date: Monday, November 5, 2012
Time: 12:00pm - 1:30pm
Place: Room 250 at Goldman School of Public Policy
1893 Le Roy & Hearst Ave

Lunch will be served. Please RSVP to cepp@berkeley.edu by Thursday, November 1, 2012.