Robert Reich, one of the nation’s leading experts on work and the economy, is Chancellor’s Professor of Public Policy at the Goldman School of Public Policy at the University of California at Berkeley. He has served in three national administrations, most recently as secretary of labor under President Bill Clinton. Time Magazine named him one of the ten most effective cabinet secretaries of the last century. He has written thirteen books, including his latest best-seller, "Aftershock: The Next Economy and America’s Future," and "The Work of Nations," which has been translated into 22 languages. His syndicated columns, television appearances, and public radio commentaries reach millions of people each week. He is also a founding editor of the American Prospect magazine, and Chairman of the citizen’s group Common Cause. His widely-read blog can be found at www.robertreich.org.
Mission
Public dialogue often lacks civility and efforts toward policy consensus rarely enjoy broad democratic engagement. Today’s hardened lines of political division threaten to aggravate and perpetuate social problems.

The Center on Civility & Democratic Engagement at UC Berkeley’s Goldman School of Public Policy focuses on preparing current and future leaders to successfully engage people of diverse backgrounds and viewpoints in the resolution of public policy issues.

The need for more effective and successful democratic engagement is clearly seen in the paralysis and acrimony in our state and national governments and violence worldwide. Through research, teaching, fellowships/internships and public events, students and the wider public learn about the range of deep beliefs and values which drive human social behavior. Along with acquiring expertise in democratic engagement, this knowledge is essential in helping diverse stakeholders achieve productive and enduring resolutions to pressing issues facing societies today.

Programs
The Center, founded by the Class of ‘68 and led by co-directors Dean Henry E. Brady and Professor Bruce E. Cain, Senior Fellow Robert B. Reich, and a voluntary Advisory Board sponsors activities on the UC Berkeley campus and beyond, including:

- Research into understanding the political, ideological and cultural factors that generate conflict and what enables productive problem solving locally, nationally and globally.

- Teaching based on the research that equips students with techniques for dealing with conflict and skills in collaborative leadership and consensus building.

- Fellowships and Internships for Goldman School undergraduate and graduate students’ public policy projects and for UC Washington Center students from Berkeley.

- Public Events featuring prominent speakers on topics related to civility and democratic engagement and broadly communicating research results to the public and the media.
